Feedback	Action Taken	Impact
Needed constant new updates in syllabus as per the current IT world trend.	Faculty members are encouraged to attend workshops, seminars, and training programs related to new technologies and trends in the IT industry. This ensures that they are equipped to incorporate these updates into their teaching.	Faculty members stay updated with the latest advancements in their field, enabling them to incorporate relevant and cutting-edge content into their teaching. This leads to a higher quality of education for students.
Level should be raised with holistic developmental approach	Various skill development programs have been introduced to enhance the employability of students. These programs focus on communication skills, leadership skills, and other soft skills that are essential for success in the professional world.	By acquiring these soft skills, students become more attractive to employers. Communication and leadership skills, for example, are highly valued in the professional world and can set students apart in job interviews and in their careers.

Syllabus should have a practical approach and application should be relevant once a guy clears the degree and goes in real market	Partnerships with industry leaders were established to provide real-world projects, guest lectures, and internship opportunities for students.	Partnerships with industry leaders can significantly benefit students, institutions, and the industry itself by bridging the gap between academic learning and real-world application.
More focus is needed on job training opportunities in specialized courses	In response to the directive to conduct employability skill development workshops for students, the department has proactively organized a series of workshops focused on improving students' employability skills.	The department's proactive approach in organizing these workshops has had a clear and positive impact on students' employability. It has equipped them with the necessary skills and confidence to excel in their future careers.
